

Revolution: The Right Way

But why?

The real question is why not? Ask yourself, when is the last time any of us felt safe in Gotham?

This city is our home, yet it doesn't feel like home anymore. Gotham is sick. Our city is poisoned. Every single day our city moans in pain since it is:

- suffocated by the chokehold of criminals
- stabbed in the back by our corrupted politicians
- tainted by the rich who live with insatiable greed
- betrayed by the justice system

as our city lies in waste.

Who will heal our city? It is certainly not anyone who hurts our city.

Batman may seem like the answer to our problems, but sadly, he is not. Simply because he is still under the impression that the justice system will punish the criminals. But we all know that this is naïve thinking.

Gotham's justice is stained with drug extortion, bribery, racketeering and countless other crimes. As long as Batman believes in this lost system, he will coexist with crime.

Who else is left?

Isn't it obvious?

It is us. The people of Gotham.

The voice of the people, our voice, is sacred and significant. We cannot allow the overpowered few to commit the sacrilegious crime of oppressing our voice. They will not be the judge, jury or executioner of our city.

Not anymore.

The Cure for Crime

When you wake up in the morning, you check twice whether the locks in your home are broken.

When you visit the bakery for a breakfast bagel, the bullet holes on the walls remind you of another late-night fight between the Maroni brothers.

When you walk in the streets, you realize that looking over your shoulders for pickpockets has become a habit.

When you get to work, you witness members of Gotham's mob since they control anything and everything in the city.

Criminals thrive in the pathetic systems of Gotham. They know countless ways and loopholes to successfully escape the punishment they deserve. It almost seems like there is no conventional way to get rid of these convicts... because there is none. Unless we do something about them.

We must take matters in our own hands. We must reject the lives that these felons are shoving at us. We must abolish the present order for it clones and grooms parasites.

The Solution for Corrupt Politicians

Why must we resist the authority?

Think for a second about these political leaders.

We have Aubrey James, our Mayor. He claimed that he will end all sorts of crimes...and yet we still can't help looking over our shoulders.

When he's not a man of his words, he uses his 'diplomatic skills' to run our city. Let us not forget that he was willing to send hundreds of homeless orphans to juvenile hall facility without trial. The reason? According to Mayor James, they were simply not 'cute and undamaged' enough for foster care. He even named this system "Tough Love."

Why must we resist the authority?

Because our leaders are incompetent and they do not treat Gotham fairly. They do not love our city the way we do. Prepare to overthrow these 'leaders' and obliterate any positions that help them abuse power.

The Remedy for the Rich

Where does all our money go? It certainly does not reach the government, for Gotham has the dirtiest air and river in the country. Our city's state of infrastructure is so degraded that it is safe to say that Gotham is truly rotten to the core.

However, it was not always like this.

Gotham was built with the blood, sweat and tears of the common people. Gotham's older buildings stand tall for they represent honesty and hard work. Now our work and money are stolen by the rich and multinational companies, and they shamelessly waste it on dangerous and toxic projects.

The most heinous of them is Wayne Enterprises, for they:

- subsidize the Wellzyn Company, which manufactures biological war weapons.
- run an underground facility that conducts inhumane experiments.
- own illegal bio-engineering farms in Indian Hill.
- have alleged involvement with several mysterious, yet powerful organizations.

These corporations, and the billionaires who run them, may seem impenetrable; however, they solely run on our money, time and effort. We can destroy these parasitic companies if only we muster all our power and fight for freedom.

The Antidote for Injustice

Justice. When we hear 'justice,' we certainly do not think of

- the Law
- the Police or
- the Commissioner.

No, we think of Batman.

Why must we consider a vigilante as our symbol of justice when the police and justice system should provide us with safety? Clearly, the police force fails to protect us.

Safety is a necessity that should not be filled by a third-party provider.

Not only have the police failed to deliver security, they also repel any attempts to seek justice. Let's not forget that they are mere puppets of the corrupt politicians. Their will to protect the city is not only bent, but broken. On petty politicians' orders, they were willing to use excessive violence on Batman, our faded symbol of justice.

The Call to Action

Why must we sit idly, pray for justice and wish for betterment?

Why must we wish for someone to save this city?

Why must we be the sitting ducks when we already have the power to save the city?

We are the only hope to salvage Gotham once and for all.

We are the tide that will cleanse our home, Gotham.

We are the revolution.
